Dear Sir

I have to say how dismayed I was to see my new driver's badge displaying my Full Name.

Are we not covered by Data Protection? My concern is that if someone was so inclined they would have my full name and they could look in any telephone directory to get my home address. I work permanent nights until 5.00am every morning and my wife and son are at home alone during this time.

This is a concern for a lot of drivers especially with some of our dubious customers that we pick up at night.

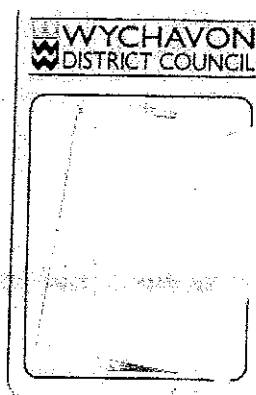

Surely all that is required is a photograph with our badge number which could be made very large. Complainants just require this number, you have the other details on file. Bus and coach drivers only have numbers on their badges.

I hope this situation can be rectified as soon as possible.

A concerned husband and father.
